(ii) steps are taken to prevent pollution of air and water, by the working of mines and quarries and dumping of domestic, commercial and industrial waste in the vicinity of the monuments.

(iii) deforestation of the area around the monuments is avoided.

(iv) monuments are made easily accessible by properly planned roads,

(v) tourist facilities, like canteens, bookshops, curio shops, etc., are provided only after clearance is obtained from the Archaeological Survey of India, the State Department of Archaeology, Central or State Department of Tourism, accordidg to the importance of the monument,

(vi) wherever monuments are in scattered groups a master-plan is prepared. This is particularly necessary in growing cities and towns. He has also pointed out that it is essential that several Departments of Municipal authorities have to lay their part through State level and local Committee formed at suitable places to ensure that the site of these monuments despoiled.
